WRTC 2026

WRTC 2026 & LOCAL HISTORY

WRTC 2026 will be held in England, United Kingdom from the 11th - 12th July 2026. The HQ venue is Wyboston Lakes, which is the small town of St Neots in Cambridgeshire, about 50 miles west from the historic city of Cambridge. The venue is conveniently located to access all of the sites needed for WRTC which will be located in the East of England (see map below). We are offering a parking and program to allow you to discover parts of the East of England and United Kingdom.

St Neots is a charming market town located in west Cambridgeshire and is the largest and fastest growing town in the county with a population over 80,000. Located around the banks of the Great Ouse, the town has a rich medieval heritage and there is plenty to offer visitors from doing as to browsing shops and markets.

St Neots was named around 875 AD when a priory in the area was owned after a holy man, Saint Neot, who died around the year of 877 AD. There is evidence of very early occupation in the area. In Roman times a fortified settlement was established, and present-day Emswary in particular became important in addition to business settlements east of the River Great Ouse.

The importance of the town increased greatly in the early 19th century, when stage coach travel to the north of England became important. Many coaches used fine three ton stage and relay horses, and to transport passengers. Four such coaching inns are still operating today as public houses.

During the 19th century, there were problems and settlements in St Neots, Emswary and Emswary in the 19th century, and more evidence of settlement has been found, including a new find and evidence of a new building, possibly a temple, has been found in Eaton Ford near the Croft Road junction. Further archaeological work and better evidence of the early Bronze Age have been discovered in Emswary.

Our HQ Venue

The WRTC 2026 HQ venue will host the event between July 11th - July 12th at Wyboston Lakes Event Centre. Accommodation will be on offer at the training and events centre in one of three hotels with support from local hotels close to the venue. These hotels will host Competitors, Referees, Judges, Sponsors, the Organizing Committee, Volunteers and Visitors.
